

KONICA MINOLTA

The essentials of imaging

Reset the way you think about collaboration.

Being able to effectively share information with your team is essential to your success. With Konica Minolta's bizhub, you can collaborate better and work smarter by accessing and distributing your office's important documents anytime. Turn information into assets by printing, copying or scanning a document and then storing it in bizhub as electronic data. You can now access that document securely from any PC on bizhub's network. This means crucial office data is at your team's grasp whenever they need it. With features like this, bizhub is sure to change the way you think about your office data. As well as how you share it.
